and

Eric Mengus, mengus@hec.fr

What my part of the course is about

- 1 Nominal exchange rates.
- 2 Small open economy model.
- 3 The real exchange rate and a 2-country workhorse model (The Redux model of Obstfeld and Rogoff 1995).
- 4 Two country models: International Business Cycles and International risk sharing
- 5 Currency crises models.

Grading

- Two “referee” reports on papers covering each part (Eric’s and mine).
- The list is going to be given as we go along.
- The objective is to go deeper in a topic that interests you most and perhaps start a Master or later a Ph.D. thesis.
